

How Sweet it Was (Sweet Regrets)

1.

A. So now that we are done
It's time for sweet regrets
I knew this day would come
But can't accept it yet

Our love was so intense
But then, so was the pain
We'd hurt each other deep
Then fall in love again

But oh, when it was good
How sweet it was.

B. Softly, soft and gently
When you held me so intently
We were one.
Then rising to our union
When the passion overwhelmed us
We were done.

Before I first embraced you
I swear I never knew
What it really truly meant to be in love.

A. It started off so well
Desire was enough.
But then we went too far
And called each other's bluff

Suspicious jealous love,
It led to so much pain.
We'd fight, we'd reconcile
And then we'd fight again.

And oh, when it was bad
How hard it was.

B. Darling, I must leave you,
You must know that I deceived you
More than once.

Confession, then forgiveness,
Then reunion, then I'd go back
On the hunt.

So now it's time for parting
After weeping, still full of sighs
Let me fondly gaze
One last time in your eyes.

3.

A. So now the time has come
To look back down the years
Remembering the joys
Forgetting all the tears

Our loving went so deep
We knew it couldn't last.
We knew we couldn't keep
A love that burned so fast

We fought to keep it real
Though we were lost . . .

But oh
When it was good
How sweet t
Was.
